At the City University of New York (CUNY) we welcome and support veterans, reservists and dependents on our 24 campuses. We are proud of the level of diversity and academic excellence that our 3,351 veterans and of those 3,351 are 868 women veterans, bring to our campuses and recognize the contribution that they make as citizens and students. We are dedicated to fostering a sense of community and to developing a channel of communication among veteran and reservist students, and with faculty, staff and administration.

The CUNY Office of Veterans Affairs (COVA) orchestrates initiatives to retain student veterans and their family members by implementing best practices and complying with federal, state and institutional policies such as Executive Order 13607 – Principles of Excellence, the DOD MOU and the 8 Keys to Veterans Success. Working collaboratively with community agencies, COVA aims to increase awareness and sensitivity to the unique needs of veterans, and provide resiliency-based social and academic support to encourage post-graduate success.

Visit our website for a virtual one-stop source of information regarding services for veterans, reservists and their dependents and survivors. In addition, it is a guide to educational benefits, entitlements, counseling and advocacy resources, which will assist veterans in pursuing their academic and civilian careers.

A Brief Timeline of Women in the Military

Throughout history women have played numerous roles in times of war. Whether stateside or overseas, their contribution has been integral to completing the mission. Here's a brief timeline: of their 101 years of service:

War of 1812: Mary Marshall and Mary Allen nurse aboard Commodore Stephen Decatur’s ship United States.

Spanish-American War (1898): The Army is impressed by the performance of its contract nurses and asks Dr. McGee to write legislation creating a permanent corps of nurses.

World War I (1917-1918): During the course of the war, 21,480 Army nurses serve in military hospitals in the United States and overseas. Eighteen African-American Army nurses serve stateside caring for German prisoners of war (POWs) and African-American soldiers.

World War II (1941-1945): More than 60,000 Army nurses serve stateside and overseas during World War II.

#VETERANSOFCUNY

My name is Chassidy Diaz. I am a senior attending Brooklyn College as a Television and Radio major. Prior to attending Brooklyn College I served in the Navy for four years. What inspired me to join the military was the opportunity to help others, although what motivated me to continue and do so was the fact that I knew that I would have the chance to travel and become financially stable while I was in. In the Navy I was a Gas Turbine Systems Electrician and worked on the U.S.S Paul Hamilton, a destroyer stationed in San Diego, California. What I like best about attending CUNY is that because it isn't a private school there is more of a chance for students from different backgrounds to attend. Which allows me to learn about others and their culture. My hobbies are modeling, acting, boxing and kickboxing.

My name is SPC Crystal Buchanan. I am a Soldier in the United States Army, and have served 4 years to date, and I am still serving. I am currently attending Brooklyn College, pursuing a Bachelors in Chemistry. My brother motivated me to join the military. Although he is younger than I, it was a combination if his encouragement and my desire to be a part of something far bigger than myself that drove me to join the military. Ever since I have joined, I can assure you that I have learned so much from a small community of people who want to keep this country protected and saved. I am a Military Police Enlisted Soldier. I plan however to change my career towards a medical profession such as that of a Nurse or Physician. I am currently attaining my Chemistry Degree. CUNY is one the best school systems that I have attended in all of my educational college life. I have been supported greatly by the Veteran Affairs Department at Brooklyn College, and have been given many resources from this department to help make the college experience a wonderful journey. I sing for a church choir located in Queens, NY. I also run and play soccer whenever I get the chance to do so. Most recently, I have been taking every opportunity to travel the world. My last trip was traveling through Europe for 30 days.
My name is Elana Duffy and I served in the US Army from 2003-2012. Growing up, I wanted to be an astronaut: I was an outdoor, all-weather kid and studied hard to get into engineering school, which I completed early with a masters degree. But my eyesight was an automatic disqualification for NASA consideration, and I ended up in an engineering job. I wanted to be on the ground, to contribute to the mission and see results, and was great at solving puzzles and talking to people. I served my entire enlisted career in the Human Intelligence fields as an intelligence collector, interrogator, and counterintelligence investigative agent until being medically retired for combat injuries in 2012 as a Sergeant First Class (E7). I am currently enrolled in the Master of Business Administration at the Zicklin School, Baruch College, focusing in data analysis and entrepreneurship. One of the things I like about CUNY is that I am surrounded by a variety of other students not just in my program but in other graduate studies, which I believe gives greater perspective on talent and specialization than a more exclusionary program. Running a company doesn’t leave a ton of time for hobbies but I do rock and mountain climb whenever I can, volunteer and participate in a ton of veteran and civic programs, and love to just hang with my boyfriend and my cats.

My name is Megan Lyon, and I attend Hunter College. I served in the Air Force for 10 years. I was born and raised in New York. My father was working in Manhattan on Sept. 11, 2001. Thankfully my father was fine but that day changed how I saw my life. So I decided to put off university and follow in the footsteps of my grandfather and uncle by joining the military. My MOS in the Air Force involved Public Affairs with duties such as Journalist, Photographer, Media and Community Relations—Now I am currently pursuing a degree in Anthropology with a focus on Archaeology. What I enjoy most about CUNY is that there are so many great things about CUNY. There are the fantastic professors and interesting classes I’ve taken, as well as the welcoming student veteran population and student veteran lounge. My campus is right next to Central Park, so I can enjoy the park on my breaks. My hobbies include photography, baking, hiking, traveling, and kayaking.
My name is Blessing Tate, and I attend Medgar Evers College. I served in the United States Navy for 6 years working in navigation. I am currently pursuing a degree in Environmental Anthropology. I joined the military because it was on my bucket list. I started school, but felt very compelled to do something different in my life. There are quite a few things I like about CUNY and my campus. I really enjoy the smallness and closeness of Medgar Evers. You know everyone in your classes, and can reach out to people personally. My campus is particularly in close proximity to my home. I am grateful for the resources and organizations at Medgar Evers. I would not have gotten through last semester without the Veterans Office. If I didn’t connect with our office for Veterans; I wouldn’t have learned about the benefits I am now using to fund my education. Fun fact, I was actually a professional football player for 15 years in the WPFL. I was a middle linebacker and running back. Since I retired from football a few years ago, I have been working as a model in addition to school. Even though I do a lot of different things, being a mother and a student always comes first.

My name is Nadia Samaria and I honorably served 20 years of active duty service in the United States Air Force. I am currently enrolled at CUNY Brooklyn College Spring ’19’ semester, majoring in Biology and Chemistry and minoring in Psychology. My job in the Air Force was many, however essentially I was a Certified Pharmacy Technician in a managerial position for over 15 years. I realized that my nurturing ways and passion for patient care required me to “get out of my comfort zone” and focus on obtaining either a Nurse Practitioner in Psychiatric medications or Physician Assistance. I chose to attend CUNY Brooklyn because of the diverse student population and the amazing professional educators who have influenced the high graduation rate and career status of each student. The challenges I faced during the transition from active duty to scholar is realizing I cannot become the professional healthcare provider of my choice, despite having 15 years of training and 3 degrees—don’t have majority of the prerequisites completed. My excitement and focus on the end goal is a necessity because, its’ not about when will I get there, it is how I will get there. My advice to all future veterans is no matter how much hands-on training or computer base training completed in the service—know that your military skills and training is valuable.

CUNY ATTENDS STUDENT VETERANS OF AMERICA

The CUNY family attended the Student Veterans of America conference and came across some amazing employers for VETS! The CUNY team gained knowledge and tools that better gear our veteran students towards success. It was an honor and privilege for our team to attend and we can’t wait to share some amazing resources.
CUNY ATTENDS STUDENT VETERANS OF AMERICA

Did you know NatCon is the largest gathering of post-9/11 veterans in the world?

On January 3rd-5th, 2019 attendees learned about the de-stigmatization of veterans on campus, veteran entrepreneurship and innovation, increasing each chapter’s capacity for inclusion, the importance of internships, navigating state and local policy, and more throughout a series of breakout sessions. Our very own CUNY vets were in attendance alongside 2,000 plus vets from other campuses across the nation.
