Dr. Shelly Eversley
Associate Professor, English, Baruch College
Director of Faculty Fellowship Publication Program, CUNY

Shelly Eversley is a teacher committed to access and opportunity in higher education. She is Academic Director of CUNY’s Faculty Fellowship Publication Program, which is the only university-wide program designed to assist untenured faculty meet the publishing requirements necessary for tenure and promotion. She is the founder of EqualityArchive.com, an open education resource on the history of sex and gender equality in the United States. She publishes black literary and cultural studies in a range of academic journals and books, and she is an Associate Professor at Baruch College. She earned her BA at Columbia University, and her PhD at The Johns Hopkins University.